There are 2 options for training. Please indicate the track for which you are applying:

- CALP (Certified Academic Language Practitioner) – An undergraduate degree is required to begin this training. This program requires 300 contact hours and is designed for classroom teachers, due to the lower hours required.
- CALT (Certified Academic Language Therapist) –Therapist training can take place while a trainee is in graduate school, but a graduate degree is required to sit for the ALTA certification exam. This program requires 700 contact hours and is designed for those seeking to provide individual therapy.

20Percenters will request a background check for applicants through ClearChecks.com. You will be sent a link to submit your information. Background checks must be completed before training begins.
